Sure, the city has lots of splashy attractions, but we wanted to find the gems that sometimes are overshadowed. Paddle. Hike. Bike. Sail. Shop. Eat. Look with us and prepare to be amazed. L3-6
Head south, travelers. San Diego, California’s oldest city, turns 250 this year. Its baseball team turns 50. So does the Coronado Bridge, the long span that adds a curvaceous blue flourish to the skyline. Chances are you’ve already been to the San Diego Zoo; the Old Globe; the big arts; science and aviation museums in Balboa Park; and the USS Midway Museum. But there’s much more waiting a couple of hours’ drive on Interstate 5. We’re pointing you to some of our other favorite spots, including museums, campus landmarks, historic structures and more.
